

We feel that the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.

--How Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has improved our time at home: We can enjoy meals and evenings with our children without being bothered by solicitors.

--How effective Indiana's law has been:

We used to receive MANY calls per week, now we only receive one.

--Our personal views about the importance of Indiana's law:

We work very hard and our children are in many academic and athletic extracurricular activities, not to mention homework! We value the small amount of time we have together in the evening. WE HAVE A RIGHT to have privacy! If we want things from people or companies, we will seek them out.

We are very frustrated with companies who think THEY have the right to infringe on others privacy. WE have a right to have ours preserved and respected!
